Obtain Clear Title To Scout Property

Will Be Held by Merion Title in Interest of Fathers'
Association.

WAS REAL ESTATE OFFICE

The Narberth Scout House property, located at the station on the south side, was sold by Sheriff Frat at Norristown on March 26. It was taken up by the Merion Title and Trust Company, and will be held by them in the interests of the Fathers' Association, sponsors of the Narberth Troop.

It was put through the formality of a sale in order to clear the title. It is rumored that the Fathers' Association is working on plans to provide the Narberth building and equipment.

The history of the scout property, originally the Caldwell Real Estate office, dates back to 1922 when a group of ten citizens contributed $100 each toward securing the land for the scouts' use. They were John A. Caldwell, A. C. Shand, A. J. Loos (all deceased), Fred Patten, C. P. Cook, W. D. Smedley, Dr. O. J. Snyder, Fletcher W. Stites, J. J. Cabrey and Robert J. Nash. The title was taken by the Merion Title and Trust Company for the Fathers' Association.

Because of inactivity no progress was made by the Fathers' Association in the way of erecting a suitable building, and the matter was allowed to drift along. The death of three of the contributors further complicated matters and involved the title.

With the reorganization of the Fathers' Association active steps were taken to put the scout work on a proper basis. The first of these is the clearing of the title to the property.

Community Club Will Change Constitution

Members to Vote on Revisions of Rules at Meeting
Tuesday.

Everything must be modernized these days, so Tuesday, April 15, the Woman's Community Club will hold a meeting to bring up to date their constitution and by-laws. A committee on this revision has been at work all this year going over other club constitutions and trying to find the best plan for the management of this club. Mrs. E. C. Batchelor read at the last meeting the proposed changes, so at this meeting there will be a second reading and a forum open for discussion before the vote. As this is a strictly business meeting only members will be allowed.

On Child Welfare Group

Miss Gertrude S. Ely, Bryn Mawr, has been appointed a member of a Statewide Committee to develop a ten-year program of child welfare for Pennsylvania.

April Has Its Showers

Beginning Sunday, and increasing in precipitation Monday, the first good rain in a month in this section freshened up the grass, brought out the buds on the trees and moistened soil that was becoming dry and hard. According to the records of Charles Decker, Main Line weatherman, it was a normal April week in all respects except for a somewhat cool snap on Tuesday.

Children To Exhibit Wares To Parents

Program of School Activities to
Be Given Parent-Teacher
Association.

ALL PARENTS INVITED

Parents of Narberth children will have a chance to get real glimpses of everyday activity in the Narberth schools, at the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association (formerly Mothers' Council) on Monday afternoon, April 14, at 2.30 o'clock. The meeting this month is a week earlier than usual, owing to the Easter holidays, and is held in the afternoon to permit the children to take part.

Almost every grade in the school will present some brief, interesting exercise—none of them of the formal, much-rehearsed kind, but all showing something done in the ordinary activity of the school year. There will be a few regular but abbreviated recitation periods, some music, some physical exercises, and the like, sufficiently varied to be interesting in themselves, and all together giving a simple picture of what the school is trying to do in its day-by-day work.

Parents, whether members of the Association or not, are cordially invited to attend this meeting, which is made possible through the very active co-operation of the principal and teachers, as well as the children.

The complete program follows:

1. Opening exercises, sixth grade girls Miss McKay; 2. Dramatization, kindergarten, Miss Williams; 3. Reading, First Grade, Miss Enion; 4. Arithmetic, Second Grade, Miss Bishop; 5. Music, Fourth Grade, Miss Fricke; 6. Spelling, Fifth Grade, Miss Lale; 7. (a) Irish Lilt, Seventh Grade Girls, Miss Church; (b) Balance Boards, Seventh Grade Girls, Miss Church; 8. Tumbling, Sixth and Seventh Grade Boys, Mr. Weatherall.

Business Folk to Meet

Narberth's Board of Trade is scheduled to hold its April meeting next Monday night, according to announcement made this week by Secretary John Bertram Nesper. The place will be the Women's Community Club room in Elm Hall.

Postpone School Board

Friday, April 25, has been set as the date for the next meeting of the Narberth School Board, since its regular monthly meeting date falls on Good Friday, the 18th. It is expected that at its meeting this month the board will decide on a new principal for the borough's school.

Bake Sale Saturday

The Woman's Bible Class of the Presbyterian Church will hold a bake sale on Saturday, April 12, beginning at 9:30 A. M. at 235 Haverford Avenue.

Award Contracts For Tennis Courts

Recreation Board to Spend
$1764 on Playground
Improvements.

ERECT NEW BLEACHERS

Bids were awarded and plans completed for five important improvements at Narberth's community playground, corner of Windsor Avenue and Wynnewood Road, by the Narberth Recreation Board at a meeting held Tuesday night.

According to Dr. LeRoy A. King, president of the board, the borough will this summer have as well-equipped and supervised a recreation center as any in Philadelphia's suburbs. Of appropriations of $1400 apiece voted by Borough Council and School Board, the Recreation Board plans to spend $1764 on physical improvements at the playground, and a major portion of the balance for salaries of supervisors.

Following opening of bids, for which proposals had been advertised recently, contracts were awarded and decisions made as follows:

1. Two double tennis courts, of clay, with fences and concrete posts, to be constructed by M. R. Lane & Sons.

2. A new bleachers to replace the delapidated affair along the first base line of the ball field, to be built by Charles L. Jenkins, Narberth.

3. Two iron fences, one on each side of the grandstand, to act as wings and aid police in preventing interference by spectators with ball games—to be erected by George V. Woodrow.

4. Two new drinking fountains, near teams' dugouts, to be installed as a gift by the Autocar Company.

5. Allan B. Wetherall, Narberth School Physical Director, was appointed in charge of the playground, and with a committee of the Recreation Board, he was authorized to receive applications for two teachers to aid in supervising summer activities.

Maroon Champs Dined by Two Service Clubs

Lower Merion's championship basketball team has been banqueted properly since their season ended two weeks ago. Last week the Rotarians gave them a midday luncheon at the Den under the Ardmore Bank, and on Tuesday night the Kiwanians entertained them at dinner at Whitehall in Haverford. The members of the squad along with Coach Bill Anderson, Principal G. H. Gilbert and Manager Frank Mantz, were introduced to the members. The usual number of speeches were given and compliments were passed around to the appreciation of all concerned. The members of the basketball team enjoyed the occasion to the fullest.

Joyous Afternoons of Hiking and Discovery by Narberth Young People Vividly Described

By Connie

Hiking continues to grow in favor with the young people of Narberth. The largest crowd to date turned out for the regular Sunday afternoon hike.

After crowding the exponents of Shank's mare into cars we drove to the mouth of historic Mill Creek. En route we passed the sites of many old mills. Some of these buildings are still standing.

One of the old settlers tells us that there were no less than twelve of these mills along Mill Creek, between Ardmore and the Schuylkill, a brass foundry, carpet mills, flour mills, cotton mills and even a gun factory.

Winding in and out along Mill Creek Road, we suddenly came around a turn in the road, to discover the blue Schuylkill, a reflection of the matchless sky.

We are out of the cars in a flash, each one anxious to outdo the other in climbing over wooded hills and along laurel-bounded woodland paths.

We enter a valley, and lo! a swimming pool greets us. Shouts of delight. We will come here again in the warm weather.

On we go again. 1852-H. C. and N. Keech reads the chimney stone in an old deserted house. Why, that was before the Civil War. We wonder about the history of the old house as we travel further along.

A bullet-riddled car next greets our view. Has it been abandoned by bandits or is it that someone has been using it for target practice?

Up a hillside and we find ourselves in a large field. What a beautiful view. Down below, the river, sparkling in the sunlight, sweeps round a neighboring hill, and in the distance faint smoke and the dim outlines of stacks and spires remind us of the town beyond.

Someone cries, "There's the haunted house!" Sure enough; we are in sight of our destination, Boulder Farm. A tumble-down barn and some miserable farm buildings contrasted by a well-built farmhouse squat on the rolling hillside. Here and there great jagged rocks jut out like great black fingers. They are indeed ominous rocks. Are they trying to warn us that the country folk say the house is haunted?

If they seek to warn us it is useless. Like hungry hounds we scurry around, striving to sate our curiosity. Let's find the spooks if there are any. Up to the garret we scramble. Nothing but empty rooms, save for some yellowed newspapers. Down to the cellar we hurry next. It is very dark here; light a match, someone. A faint glimmer and then the cobwebby outlines of dusty rafters and dank walls come into view. The ground is soft to our feet. Light another match, someone has buried something here; maybe it's treasure. "Maybe it's a dead cat," someone says. Well, no matter, we'll soon find out if this rusty spade holds out.

We have quite a pile of earth now. What was that! The spade touches something hard. Dig faster; it's something round. Oh, a handle. Why, it's a kettle, and so heavy. Maybe there's gold in it. But when we bring it to the light there is nothing in it. It has a date on it though, 1853. We wonder has it lain there that long, perhaps buried by some child long ago. There is no treasure in it, but it seems like an antique, so it may prove to be treasure after all.

Out in the fresh air again hunger assails us. We think of our lunches. A fire is started and we gather around it, munching our sandwiches.

Hunger satisfied, home we go, tak-

Library Notes

A recent interesting gift to the Narberth Community Library is "The Blankenburgs of Philadelphia," by One of Them, Lucretia A. Blankenburg. Herein is told the efforts of two Philadelphians, one adopted, one native, to free their city from that alliterative stigma, "Corrupt and Contented," for the account of Rudolph Blankenburg's mature life is essentially the story of 40 years of reform movements in Philadelphia politics, while through Mrs. Blankenburg's 82 years one can trace the constant enlargement of woman's activities. As a child, Mrs. Blankenburg was almost ostracized because her mother, one of the first graduates of Woman's Medical College, was a practicing physician. As an octogenarian, Mrs. Blankenburg addresses an international congress of women.

The book is not only inspiring reading, but a valuable source of information on the history of Philadelphia politics of the period.

'Bishop Murder Case' Playing at Egyptian

Children's parties Saturday afternoons continue popular at The Egyptian, according to letters received by the theatre's managing director from parents of the children. At this Saturday's party the attractions will include "Lazy Days," which is an "Our Gang" comedy, and a "Mickey Mouse" talking comedy. Both pictures are also to be seen at the evening performances this Friday and Saturday.

The Egyptian's feature at evening performances this week-end is S. S. Van Dine's "Bishop Murder Case," in which Basil Rathbone makes a capable Philo Vance, assisted by Raymond Hackett and Leila Hyams.

Next Monday and Tuesday "Woman Trap" is scheduled, with Chester Morris and Evelyn Brent, both of whom have large followings among "talkie" fans. "Big News" with Carol Lombard and Robert Armstrong is booked for next Wednesday and Thursday. And for next week-end, the Duncan sisters and Lawrence Gray and Benny Rubins will appear in a song-and-dance comedy, "It's a Great Life." Accompanying it will be Harry Langdon's latest talking comedy, "Head Guy," and the usual week-end Inquirer News-Reel, with Graham McNamee newscasting.

Signs point to outstanding Mask and Wig show, opening at Garrick April 21; Hedgerow schedule.

All signs point to the fact that the Mask and Wig Club of the University of Pennsylvania will have the smoothest and most complete productions in their history when their forty-second annual show, "John Faust, Ph. D.," which was given its public opening in Lancaster on April 5. "John Faust, Ph. D.," will open its Philadelphia engagement of two weeks at the Garrick Theater on Easter Monday, April 21.

The authors of this year's Mask and Wig show, whose identities are shrouded under the cognomen of "A Couple of Other Fellows," have consulted all the versions and stories concerning the Faust legend in writing the book of "John Faust, Ph. D." The Gounod opera, Goethe's drama, Calderon's "El Magico," Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus," Klinger's "Faust" and Heine's "Ballet" have all been used in fashioning this satiric travesty which, while true to the period in costumes and settings, both of which are to be unusually elaborate and colorful this year, has been brought strictly up to date in spirit and interpretation. The plot, in brief, concerns the efforts of one Johannes Faustus, a teacher in the co-educational University of Wittenberg, to win the hand of the fair Marguerite, a sophisticated undergraduate. The romance is beset with all sorts of difficulties, and, of course, is further complicated by the appearance of Mephistopheles, who offers to turn the gray-haired Faustus into a handsome youth if the latter, in turn, will give himself, body and soul, to his Satantic Majesty. This compact permits the action of the story to shift to the Infernal Regions, and gives an opportunity for one of the most picturesque and striking scenes that the Mask and Wig Club has ever had in any of the shows.

Jasper Deeter, well-known director of the Hedgerow Company in Rose Valley, has been staging the book, this being the first time that the Wiggers have had two different people to direct the dancing numbers and the story. Francis C. W. Patton, who has gained widespread attention here for his work in training dance choruses, will take care of that department of the current Mask and Wig offering.

Charles Gilpin, who has been composing the music for the club's show for many years now, is said to have contributed the best score of his career for "John Faust, Ph. D." Numbers that are being mentioned as almost certain song hits include "Just an Old German Custom," "A Soldier On Leave," "How Can a Devil Be Good," "Marguerite," and "Something Ought to be Done About This." In addition, several of the famous arias and marches from the opera are woven into the piece as well as several old German folk songs.

The cast is as follows: Mephistopheles, J. Alexander Bliedung; Dr. John Faust, Edward Craven; Marguerite, Wilbert Sheridan Beaumont; Martha, L. Guernsey Clark; Siebel, Benjamin Charles Taber; Valentine, Gerald George Christ; Brander, Walter T. Sheldon; Christopher, Ward Munroe French; Gertrude, Joseph Saunders Eaton; Dante Allegheri, Royal Gregg; Virgil, John Albert Palmer; first witch, W. R. Swire; second witch, Fred Sturewald, Jr.

"Rancour," by Lynn Riggs, will be given its first performance this season, tomorrow night, at the Hedgerow Theater in Rose Valley with Dorothy Yockel and William Price in the leading roles, and Dudley Vaughan, Harry Bellaver, Ford Wofer and Alfred Rowe in the supporting cast. "Rancour" will be repeated next Thursday night and "The Romantic Age," which has Frances Torchiana for its leading woman, will return to the repertory next Saturday night.

Shakespeare's "Othello," Hedgerow's first new production this season, will open Monday night, April 21.

Recreation Comes Into Its Own

Several years ago the open stretch of land between the Railroad and Windsor Avenue and Wynnewood Avenue was an unsightly public dump. Today due to the wisdom, generosity and energy of a group of Narberth's citizens, this same bog is one of the beauty spots of the Main Line.

Last summer the impetus given recreation matters by the reorganized Recreation Board made itself felt, when under the able supervision of Allan B. Wetherall, the school's new director of physical education, an average of ninety-four children turned out every day to participate in the sports and programs at the playgrounds.

This summer the playgrounds promise to come into their own. Construction will be started soon on two clay tennis courts, which will add greatly to the benefits to be derived by the children. The replacement of the old bleachers along the Haverford Avenue side of the ball field with a new stand will increase seating capacity at games and add much to their enjoyment. Installation of two drinking fountains on the playground, the gift of the Autocar Company, will be greatly appreciated. Wire fences adjoining the grandstand will add to safety factors and permit easier handling of big crowds.

This program of physical improvements, costing in the neighborhood of $1700, indicates the thoroughness with which the Recreation Board is attacking the problem of recreation. The wisdom of the School Board and Council in appropriating $1400 each for the work of the Recreation Board will be reflected in Narberth's playgrounds which will be the equal of any in Philadelphia's suburbs in equipment and supervision.

Devon Disaster Relief

Frequently residents of this section have been called upon by the American Red Cross to contribute toward the aid of destitute persons, victims of flood, fire or other disaster in various parts of the nation and world. Always a generous response has been made. In the present instance, where one of our own communities has suffered tragic loss, there should be no question of the ability and willingness of neighbors to give every possible aid to their own people.

Confidence Well Placed

Re-election of S. Edgar Downs as superintendent of the Lower Merion township schools for a term of four years will cause little comment as the School Board's action was entirely anticipated. During the sixteen years Mr. Downs has been connected with the school district enormous strides have been made in an educational way, in proportion even larger than the corresponding growth and development of the township in wealth and population.

Plans for the coming year indicate that no cessation in the advancement of standards is contemplated. Penn Wynne is to have a half-million-dollar building. Kindergartens are to be inaugurated in several of the elementary schools. Very few changes will be made in the faculty of the entire system which has established an excellent record of scholastic achievement. Despite this growth it has been possible to decrease the school tax rate by two mills.

Our best wishes are extended to Mr. Downs and his aides at the beginning of his new four-year term of office.

Republican Representative James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, says prohibition is going to ruin his party (Republican) if something isn't done about it right away. Maybe President Hoover ought to appoint a commission on ruination.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Jess Retires

Dear Uncle Cy,

I had intended to permit your heated and illogical criticism of myself to go unanswered; but when you allow a third party to intervene in your behalf, my back is to the wall. And a Littlekiss must fight! I do not recall insulting Dean Bishop. I have not, I think, the pleasure of his acquaintance. But such is my opinion of deans that he may well consider himself insulted by me. If he is a disciple of yours, my reverend uncle, I presume he is Dean of the Collegiate Institution for the Propagation of Drunkenness. Nothing personal, of course, intended. Yet if I am to be endowed with a reputation for making insulting remarks, I must live up to that which is spoken of me.

If Dean Bishop (Mr., Mrs., or Miss, as the case may be) thinks that this writer spends any appreciable amount of time composing these insignificant trifles of epistolary art, he is sadly and badly mistaken. They are but the by-product of a mighty pen, a pen, my middle-aged friend, perhaps slightly more famous in this vale of tears than your own. Both the Bishop and my uncle (if in reality they are discrete persons) would be astounded to see (if they have not already unknowingly seen) the product of my pen when it is functioning for profit. Then the facile pen gilds the receptive paper with light whimsicalities and sober opinions than reflect both the keen intellect and the wide acquaintance with reality that characterize the master at his work.

Jasmine (That is my wife. I married her because her given name fitted so harmoniously to my own. Jasmine and Jess! Could anything be sweeter, purer, nobler? But I digress.) has urged me to cease what she terms my "silly campaign against a mental and philosophical inferior." She fears the dire results that would confront my professional standing were the truth of this little escapade to be known. This is the chief reason for my resignation, which I am about to tender. Jasmine, in the event that you have not had the pleasure of meeting her, is a very forceful lady. Her slightest whim is like another's iron command.

And then there is the agitated Dean Bishop. Really, I have no particular "itch" (as he vulgarly terms it) for the position of chief columnist to the Main Liner. One reason for my dislike of even the thought of it is the absence of any material remuneration. After that reason, the others matter little. But one of the others is the intensely moronical character of the majority of your correspondents.

By way of parting gift to Dean Bishop, I would advise him that the person to whom he talked in your publishing office complimented him rather than complemented him. The little e makes a large difference. Witness those persons who bear the name Hill. He committed several other remarkably irritating errors in diction and grammar, but, not having his letter before me, I can not here call attention to them. I would assure him, finally, that the name is Littlekiss and not Littlefish.

Truly yours,

Jess A. Littlekiss.

Postscriptum: I have no contempt for females in general, but only for certain deluded ones. I will wager one cream puff (three inches in length by four inches in breadth by two inches in height) that I have kissed as many kisses as Dean Bishop. If that gentleman (or lady) desires to have our respective osculatory records submitted to some unprejudiced arbitration board, it will be eminently satisfactory to yours truly.

J. A. L.

N. B. If, on the other hand, Dean Bishop feels that the test should be present ability rather than past performance, I will meet him (or her) in public contest at any time. The Lower Merion Auditorium to be the place. Contestants to bring their own equipment (I will not trust any person to choose my kisses for me). The time, of course, will have to be arranged later. But I think Jasmine is going

High Lights in Lower Merion School System Reviewed by Superintendent

More from the report of Superintendent S. E. Downs upon the manifold activities and features of the Lower Merion School system. Lower Merion Township is justly famed for its excellent public buildings, not least of which are its schools, both public and private. Money invested in permanent attractive improvements available to the public proves a distinct community asset in every way, but the chief value of a school system must be determined by its measure of service to the community. Its chief function is to conserve and develop the physical, mental, and moral powers of the children to the end that they may become able-bodied, straight thinking right acting members of society, capable of rendering community service and of assuming their full share of the responsibilities of life and government.

The higher standards required of students who enter training institutions; the longer courses provided for graduation with degree from normal schools; the extra opportunities now afforded teachers in service for additional training in our colleges and universities; the requirements here for new teachers of special scholastic and teaching ability; the permission granted by the Board to the Superintendent to select those best suited to each field of work; the greater specialization now required of all who qualify for high grade positions and the unusually fine equipments supplied for the convenience and comfort of teachers; these have all aided in raising the professional standard of our teaching force and the quality of the work in the schools.

Transportation

No single factor has influenced the progress of Lower Merion more than our splendid system of transportation. In April, 1914, the first school bus was purchased, and Bart Cassidy was selected as driver. Our fleet of seven district owned vehicles, supplemented by three hired by Narberth Borough, have made possible the abandonment of all rural and ungraded schools; the transfer of students and teachers to large central buildings; the gradation of the work so that teachers may instruct in subjects in which they are skillful; the safe delivery of children of all ages from and to their homes without exposure during bad weather; the transportation of special groups to points of historic interest; the proper conduction of athletic teams to places of contest; the delivery of all books, supplies, and other equipments to points needed without extra cost. Our school owned buses now cover approximately 80,000 miles per year, using schedules as definite as those of train or trolley.

Administration

Sixteen years ago all principals, except the one at Ardmore Avenue, were required to conduct regular classes in addition to their administrative duties. At present all have ample time for this work and that of supervision, and in eight buildings are supplied with clerical assistants who compile all statistical and other routine reports. These changes have made possible the adjustment by the principal of the school programs to departmental or platoon work through which each instructor may now teach those branches to which she is best adapted. The principal has opportunity to modify schedules as needed and to supervise work in the gymnasium, the lunch room, and the playground, and yet have time to meet parents and get acquainted personally with pupils and their problems.

The schools have now become largely cooperative organizations wherein students, teachers, and principals all have a part. Coercion has largely disappeared and school management has become a matter of mutual helpfulness. Physical Education and Health Work

In 1914 the Senior High School and Ardmore Avenue alone had gymnasiums. We now have eleven. There was not a single playground in the district sufficiently large to make possible any outside competitive games such as baseball, football, soccer, hockey, track, or tennis. One woman devoted full time to supervision of health activities and one man one-half of each day to physical work. We now employ two men and nine women, all trained workers, who are engaged full time in health work.

All children are periodically weighed and measured. Our three physicians check carefully all physical defects and administer toxin-antitoxin injection.

Let cold figures prove the economy of SWP

Here are facts on painting, which we can prove by the simplest arithmetic. SWP is the most economical paint you can put on your house. It costs more per gallon, of course. But did you ever stop to think of how much extra surface a gallon of SWP covers? Mark this—a gallon of SWP will thoroughly cover almost twice as much surface as cheaper paint. Therefore far fewer gallons of SWP are needed. In addition, SWP lasts twice as long as cheaper paint—saves repair bills by giving full protection to the surface—and its rich, weather-proof colors retain their beauty to the end. Come in and let our figures prove it.

Eight freshmen may be letter winners in three spring sports at Haverford College this year. The baseball team, with four first-year men in the lineup, is counting heavily on this unseasoned material, while the track squad has three potential varsity men and tennis team. Baseball has John L. Simons of Kingston, Pa., as catcher; George Rice of Douglaston, Long Island, N. Y., at third base; Bill Tripp of Allegan, Mich., and Howard Hager of Narberth, in the outfield.

The freshman trackmen are Bill Battey of Haverford, a sprinter and broad-jumper; Walter W. Jones of Narberth, a hurdler and high-jumper, and Albert Zintl of Woodbury, N. J., a hurdler. The tennis player is Bernard V. Lentz of Fort Snelling, Minn., president of the freshman class.

Paintings by Narberth Girl Exhibited at Library

The staff of the Narberth library is sponsoring an exhibition of paintings by Margery Dorrance Cowin to be given at the library the week of April 14 starting next Monday.

Miss Cowin, who began her work at the School of Industrial Art and graduated from the School of Design for Women, studied under George B. Harding, Henry B. Snell, R. Sloan Bredin and Paul Gill, internationally known artists.

She received the Alumnae Fellowship at graduation and specialized the next year in portrait painting.

The pictures in the exhibition are portraits and landscapes. Several of the latter were done this winter in Florida.

Miss Cowin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cowin, 206 Merion Avenue, Narberth.

Successful Concert Given For Benefit of Blind School

A successful concert was given for the benefit of the Royer-Greaves School for Blind at the Ardmore Woman's Club last Friday night. Guests from Philadelphia, Glenside, Narberth, Cynwyd, Plymouth Meeting and Norristown as well as from the Main Line were seen in the appreciative audience. The music by the School orchestra and Girls' Glee was very pleasing while the reading from the Braille by Alice Hughes was a revelation to those who had never seen anyone read with the fingers.

The dances added much to the program, and Mrs. Lucile Meade and Mrs. Gertrude Sharkey of the Philadelphia Civic Theatre Company won hearty applause by their character impersonations.

The pupils and teachers of the Royer-Greaves School with Mrs. Jessie Royer Greaves, the Founder and Principal, wish to thank the Woman's Club of Ardmore, the Juniors of the club, and all friends, new and old, for their aid in making the concert a success.

Performance of 'Rummage' Pleases Large Audience at Ardmore Woman's Club

"Rummage," the prize-winning play written and directed by Mrs. Frederick G. Pierce, of "Singing Wood," Ardmore, was admirably presented on Friday evening, March 21st, to a large and enthusiastic audience at the Woman's Club of Ardmore. It was undoubtedly a huge success, as the acting of the entire cast was enjoyed by everyone present.

Among the leading characters which deserve especial mention was that of Mrs. Goodenough, portrayed by Mrs. James McCurdy, of Narberth, who played the part remarkably and was true to the type delineated. Her delivery was extremely pleasing and natural. Robert H. Maitland as Mr. Goodenough, the harassed husband and father, was splendid, while Miss Janet McDowell as their daughter was very good. Mrs. Stephen E. Slocum won the heart of her audience by her impersonation of Nora Maguire, the belligerent and cunning Irish woman. Harry Kabernagle, of Germantown, was a pleasing and forceful Officer Ryan. There were many minor parts in the supporting cast which were very well done. Mrs. Albert P. Braid, who represented a darkey flapper, charmed the audience with her song, "Lucky Day," and her use of the colored dialect. Mrs. John S. Adams and Mrs. Edwin Lawrence, two East Side flappers, raised many a laugh with their witticisms which were apropos to the purchasing of hats and gowns at the rummage sale. A touch of pathos was added to the play by Mrs. C. A. Rogers, who took the part of the Little Woman and by an Italian woman enacted by Mrs. Nicola D'Ascenzio, of Germantown. Among the minor characters those who deserve special mention were Chester Walleigh, of Lansdowne, who played the part of the Chinaman; Curnow Carlson enough, Jack Pierce, Dean Antilio, as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Good-Helen McCurdy, Jack Spears and Mrs. William E. Stanley.

Inez Reffeto recited interesting and entertaining monologues, while the Phillips-Jenkins Trio, of Philadelphia, delighted the audience with a group of songs, among which were "Pale Moon," "Lullaby" and "The Fairies in the Bottom of Our Garden." As an encore they sang Victor Herbert's "Gypsy Love Song."

Members of the Junior Club who acted as ushers were Miss Florence Hutchinson, Miss Ann Culbertson, Mrs. Edward Burt, Mrs. Albert Fey, Mrs. Felix Maguire, Mrs. Earl Thompson, Mrs. Ross Andrews and Miss Jean Arnold. Dancing followed the play in the club room.

At two o'clock this afternoon the club will hold their regular monthly card party in the club rooms. In connection with this there will be a fashion show by the Bon Marche Gown Shop, of Ocean City, N. J. Those playing cards will be charged a small fee, otherwise everybody is welcome to the fashion show.

Coaches Signed

Announcement by the Executive Athletic Committee of the signing of Coaches Brammell, Pattersall, McPete and Taylor, in tennis, cricket, soccer and basketball, completes the coaching staff for Haverford College for next year, with the exception of football. The gridiron sport was left without a head coach when Harvey Harman accepted an offer from the University of the South, to take over the football and track departments there. Coach Brammell's team which has compiled a record of nineteen wins and eight losses in the two years in which he has been coaching it, will face a hard schedule of sixteen matches. James McPete will be in charge of the soccer men, who have a record of fifty-nine wins, eighteen ties, and seventeen defeats, in the eight years that he has been at Haverford. Sam Taylor, basketball mentor during the season just passed, will again tutor the quintet, and he is hoping that the team will better the record of eight losses and five victories, compiled last winter.

Present Musical Play at Friends' Central

Many Attend Delightful Affair; Elections to Cum Laude Announced.

MOTHERS HEAR ADDRESS

On Tuesday, the 18th, Ralph P. Bridgman, Director of Parents' Council, Philadelphia, addressed a meeting of mothers of Junior High School boys at Friends' Central School, Overbrook. His topic was "The Growing Boy" and his talk was the first of a series of lectures by different people to this group on topics which relate to young people. Mrs. Charles H. English of Narberth is the chairman of this study group.

A delightful musical romance entitled "The Wishing Well" was presented on Friday evening by the Dramatic Club of the School. With a pleasing depiction of Irish humor through the spoken word and song the very capable young men and young women who participated showed that they had been exceedingly well trained and were not without some individual talent. Mrs. Berenice S. Flick, a member of the faculty at Friends' Central, directed the play. About five hundred parents and friends attended.

Elections to Cum Laude Society at Friends' Central: (Cum Laude Society is the Secondary School scholastic honorary society and is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa in the colleges). Professor Putnam Lockwood of Haverford College addressed the student assembly on Monday as part of the ceremony electing six new members to the Friends' Central Chapter of Cum Laude. The following young people have maintained a superior average in all their subjects during their junior year and the first half of their senior year, thereby becoming eligible for election in recognition of their excellent scholastic achievement: J. Stokes Clement, Jr., Pauline Tarbox, William Serber, Ralph P. Earle, Helen M. Pike, Dorothy P. Humphreys. After Dr. Lockwood's talk their election was formally announced by the principal, Dr. Barclay L. Jones, and keys awarded by Anna B. Eisenhower, Secretary of the local chapter.

Main Line Adopts Community Concerts

Membership Dues to Finance Appearances of Artists Before Association.

The Main Line has definitely adopted the community concert plan, which means that local music lovers will have the opportunity of hearing the world's greatest artists during the coming season, without the necessity of underwriting or guarantees, and without the slightest risk of deficits. Briefly the plan is to form a local association, each member of which is entitled to a seat at all concerts that can be given within the limits of the budget created by membership dues. The more members, the bigger and better and more numerous will be the resulting concerts. All funds will go into the concerts themselves, with no profit to any one except the listeners.

The community concert plan, which has the support of nine of the leading national managers, offers the opportunity of hearing such world-famous artists and groups of artists as the New York Philharmonic and Philadelphia Orchestras, Rosa Ponselle, Jeritza, Martinelli, Elman, Spalding, Lhevinne, Bauer, Levitzki, the English Singers, the London String Quartet, the Russian Symphonic Choir, etc. The choice of actual concerts is made by the local committee, after the available budget is realized, with the assurance of the greatest possible return for whatever the investment may be. There will be no box office sale, and the concerts can be heard only by those who are members of the association.

Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, of New York, well known writer and speaker on music, is general director of the community concert movement, and will visit the Main Line during the week of May 19 to address various local organizations, after which membership will be thrown open to all who are interested in hearing good music.

Among those who have thus far been interested in the community concert plan in the Main Line are:

Miss Elfrida Rossmassler, Miss Florence Leonard, Bruce C. Beach, Mrs. C. B. Pennypacker, Mrs. H. Wilson Moorehouse, Mrs. Gideon Boericke, Mrs. Albert P. Braid, Miss Elizabeth Ransley, Miss Grace A. Pennypacker, William T. McIntyre, Horace Entriken, Edwin W. Ehmman, Joseph L. Bowles, all of Ardmore; Adolph Vogel and Mrs. C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., Narberth; Mrs. J. E. Bacon, Bala-Cynwyd; Mrs. Frederick Neely, Mrs. James Chadwick-Collins and Mrs. Edith Harcum, Bryn Mawr.

Autocar Trucks to Do Highway Work in Russia

The Autocar Company, which has just paid the thirtieth consecutive dividend on its preferred stock, recently completed negotiations involving the sale of sixty-nine heavy duty trucks to the Amtorg Trading Company, of New York, for export to Russia. Fifty-four of these units will be used for street construction and maintenance work in Moscow, and the remainder for highway work in outlying districts. The amount of the sale which included a quantity of spare parts, totaled nearly $400,000.

The Autocar Company has completed a construction program involving the alteration of their main plant building at Ardmore. This work was started last year when $170,000 was expended in preparation for quantity production of the New Autocar "Blue Streak" Motor. The alterations provide for the entire rerouting of the motor, transmission and rear axle divisions and will permit production to keep pace with the increased sales volume expected in 1930.

Select Commencement Speaker

Henry T. Hodgkin, director of study at the new Quaker School of Social and Religious Study in Philadelphia, has been selected to deliver the commencement day address at Haverford College on June 7. Dr. Hodgkin, who is a graduate of Kings College, England, has been chairman of the Student Volunteer Missionary Union, secretary of the Friends' Foreign Missionary Association, chairman of the Fellowship of Reconciliation and secretary of the National Christian Council of China. He is a winner of the Walker Prize for an essay on Social Reconstruction and has written numerous books on religious and international subjects.

for Economical Transportation

It's wise to choose a SIX!

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—the only way to get six-cylinder smoothness. Six-cylinder smoothness takes out vibration and roughness. This saves motor, chassis, body, passengers, and driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. Yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay. And it lasts longer, because of fine materials, oversize parts and a big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine that always "takes it easy."

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six saves gasoline and oil, through modern efficiency—overhead valves—high compression power—latest carburetor—long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. Thus Chevrolet brings truly modern transportation within reach of all who can afford any car. Chevrolet economy also means sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are adjustable—to save replacing. Chevrolet molded brakelining greatly reduces brake upkeep. The rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet means accessibility.

The whole car is full of such evidence that true economy comes from advancement and refinement. There are four extra-long, chrome-vanadium springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, with self-adjusting spring shackles to maintain quiet.

Modern low suspension and extra wheelbase give the Chevrolet Six good proportions. The front view is distinguished by the honeycomb radiator. The gasoline tank is at the rear for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—style, quiet, safety—Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction—non-glare windshield—adjustable driver's seat—deeper cushions—greater leg room—clearer vision—finer fabrics and fitments.

There is just as much extra value throughout. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the wisest choice in the low-price field... with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the other features of this day and age.

P. P. S. I hereby tender my resignation, to take effect immediately.

Jess A. Littlekiss.

Your second letter—reproduced herewith—came too late to tear apart the type of the first, but I'm removing my remarks about you slinking away with your tail between your legs to publish it this week. Just what is your capacity on the paper whose envelope you used?

No, He Doesn't

Dear Uncle Cy,

This is merely politely to request you, if you should happen to publish my most recent letter, to delete the phrase which indicated my intention to retire. I have changed my mind. Also, if you happen to be in the publishing office in the near future, I should like you to delete that phrase of mine which unwarrantedly asserted the superior fame of my pen over yours. I feel that this suggestion was indelicate and impolite. I have recently heard several persons from the Main Line commend your column; consequently I feel that it is not for me to censure thus severely.

Truly (though hastily) yours,
Jess A. Littlekiss.

The Board of Directors of the Woman's Community Club is planning a plant exchange, or sale, on May 6, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Drew, Moreno road. Locally grown annuals and perennials may be bought at this time, or, if wants are made known to Mrs. Drew and her committee, they will try to arrange an earlier exchange. Ralph Greenleaf, world's pocket billiard champion, will make his first public appearance on the Main Line on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 12th, at the Ardmore Recreation Centre, 63 W. Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, in a series of exhibition matches. In addition to match games Greenleaf will give demonstrations of trick and intricate shots for which he is famous. After holding the championship nine years straight, Greenleaf lost it for one year, but he is again back on the throne and promises to continue there. He is going to England this summer so it is unlikely that he will be seen in this section again for some time. No admission will be charged for these exhibitions.

Lower Merion Loses Opener To Norristown

Lower Merion High School opened its League baseball season Tuesday afternoon by losing to Norristown High 7 to 2. The game was played in spite of the very cold weather.

Lower Merion outthit the winners 3 to 2, but errors at critical moments allowed the County Seat boys to walk off with the verdict. Keith Parks pitched well considering the weather, but his control is still poor. Durante, Norristown hurler, gave ten bases on ball, but they were scattered throughout the game.

Grown-up styles on low-heeled lasts for growing girls

We are confirmed in the opinion that one is never too young to be chic. Even to the point of taking some of our most popular grown-up styles, and building them on junior Shoor-Tred lasts, with just the right height of heel for every age. It's really a bright idea... but much of the credit belongs to the wide-awake members of the younger set, who pointed out to us how important a thing fashion is in one's busy young life.
